

WAYS TO LEAVE A LEGACY THROUGH IRGF

Enduring Impact. Lasting Purpose. A Legacy Through Youth Golf.

The Indian River Golf Foundation (IRGF) offers meaningful ways for individuals, families, and businesses to make a lasting impact on the lives of young golfers. Whether through philanthropy, mentorship, or legacy naming opportunities, your involvement becomes part of something bigger—building character, leadership, and opportunity for generations to come.

1. Fund a Named Endowment or Scholarship

- Create a lasting legacy by establishing a named scholarship or endowment fund.
- Honor a loved one, family legacy, or club champion.
- Supports long-term funding for youth development, training, and access programs.

2. Support the IRGF Endowment Fund

- Contribute to our $6 Million Endowment goal.
- Ensure IRGF's future sustainability and scholarship impact.
- Provide annual funding for core programs and outreach.

3. Sponsor a Signature Program or Facility

- Naming opportunities available for:
 - Virtual Golf Academy (VGA)
 - Player Cadet & Caddie Programs
 - Performance & Leadership Training Center
 - Signature Tournaments (Founders Cup, Collegiate AM, etc.)

4. Make a Planned Gift or Bequest

- Include IRGF in your estate planning:
 - Wills or trusts
 - Life insurance or retirement beneficiary designation
 - Legacy naming opportunities in honor of your gift

5. Create a Family Giving Legacy

- Establish a multi-generational tradition of giving.
- Engage your children or grandchildren in philanthropic impact.
- Name an annual scholarship or youth event in your family's name.

6. Mentor or Volunteer Through a Signature Role

- Serve as a leadership mentor or youth coach.
- Volunteer in a meaningful, legacy-building capacity.
- Inspire the next generation through presence and purpose.

7. Sponsor a Youth Golfer or Cadet Cohort

- Underwrite training, tournament travel, or college prep for one or more IRGF players.
 - Receive personal updates and recognition from supported youth.
